David, a twelve-year-old boy and his mother Linda like running. Sometimes David and Linda run together and they really enjoy it but for different reasons.

David is very good at running. He is very fast. In his school there are a lot of running competitions. David usually wins them. He is the best runner in his school.

One day a new student came to David's class. Everyone thought he was a very fast runner. But in the race David still came first and beat him.

Running makes David happy because he is fairly good at this sport. When he wins a running competition, he feels very proud.

His mother enjoys running too. But she likes running because it is good for her health. It makes her heart strong and makes her feel well.

David likes to sprint. He likes to run very fast. He thinks it is very exciting. He is good at starting at the right moment just when the starter says: "On your marks, get set, go!"

Linda enjoys running long distances. She doesn't try to run fast. She tries to run far. She usually runs more than 1 kilometer. Sometimes she runs 4 or 5 kilometers. She enjoys running slowly.

On Saturday the school held a race. It was 3 km race. Students and parents were both invited to run. David really wanted to run with his mother. He boasted he would beat her, but Linda just smiled.

So, they went to race. The starter yelled: "On your marks, get set, go! David was ready, the race began. David started running fast. He ran the first km. He looked back to see his mother. She was far behind. During the second kilometer David slowed down. His mother was catching up! "Come on!" she smiled when she was passing by. David tried to run very fast but he couldn't catch up with her. Soon Linda crossed the finish line. She looked back to see David. He was running very slowly. "You can do it!" she shouted. David heard her and smiled. Finally, he crossed the finish line.

"Not too bad, for an old lady!" Linda said.

"Hey, mum! Will you help me to run like you?" David answered.

Linda smiled at her son and said "Of course!"
