READING

Time: 20 minutes

Task 1.

Read the text and choose from the sentences A-F the one, which fits each gap (1-5). There is one extra sentence, which you do not need to use.

In the swamplands and along the river banks of the Amazon and the Orinoco there lives a bird that swims before it can fly, flies like a fat chicken, eats green leaves, has the stomach of a cow and has claws on its wings when young. (1) C. It is called the hoatzin.

(2) E. Male and female look very much alike with brown on the back and cream and rusty red underneath. The head is small, with a large crest on the top, bright red eyes, and electric blue skin. Its nearest relatives are the cuckoos. Its most remarkable feature, though, is not found in the adult but in the young.

Baby hoatzins have a claw on the leading edge of each wing and another at the end of each wing tip. Using these four claws, together with the beak, they can clamber about in the undergrowth, looking very much like primitive birds must have done. The hoatzin, however, could not be considered primitive. (3) F.

During the drier months between December and March hoatzins fly about the forest in flocks containing 20-30 birds, but in April, when the rainy season begins, they collect together in smaller breeding units of two to seven individuals. (4) A.

When danger threatens, in the form of a snake or a monkey, the young hoatzins – maybe three in one nest – dive over the side and into the river. (5) D. When they have learned to fly they lose their claws and escape predators not by swimming but by flapping off, in a rather ungainly fashion, to a neighboring tree.

A	They build their nests about 4.6m above the river, an important feature for the survival of the young.
B	Another peculiarity of the chick is its ability to swim well if it falls into water.
C	It would not be out of place in Lewis Carroll's Alice in Wonderland , but it is real.
D	They swim about under the water until it is safe to return and then, using their claws, haul themselves up through the branches and back to the nest.
E	In appearance, the adult looks like a cross between a domestic chicken and a secretary bird.
F	It is a highly specialized bird.

Task 2.

Read the text and questions 1-5 below. For each question, mark the correct letter A, B, C or D.

My home is a windmill

by Josh Summers, aged 14

My home's different from where my friends live because I live in a 19th century windmill! My parents saw it one day, and bought it. It was in poor condition, but it was repaired and now it's fantastic!

The windmill was once used to make flour from corn. The corn store used to be downstairs, where our kitchen is now, and horses came there to deliver the corn. The enormous 20-metre sails are still on the front, but they don't turn in the wind like they used to because it's too dangerous, so birds live in them instead. There's always a ladder up the side of the windmill so that dad can paint it and keep it a nice cream colour. He also cleans the windows, although a company comes to do the top ones as the ladder's too short.

Inside it's like a tent with six sides, and it becomes more pointed towards the top, so the rooms get smaller. My room's under the roof and I get a fantastic view – it's like looking out of an airplane window. There are some other houses around now, and a new main road, but I can relax and make a noise when I play my guitar up there and no one can hear me! I can hear everything, though, like the birds when it's quiet, which is really calming, or the very loud storms, which I can see coming towards us. And I actually find it easier to concentrate on my school work up there, as my brothers and sisters don't want to climb up all the stairs, so they don't disturb me! I can't imagine living anywhere else!

1. What is Josh trying to do in the text?

- A compare his home with his friends' homes
- B explain why his family chose to live in their current home
- C tell readers about advantages of living where he does
- D suggest how his home could be improved

2. What does Josh say about the outside of the windmill?

- A Wild creatures have made their homes there.
- B It's covered in dark paint.
- C There's a ladder that goes right to the top.
- D The windows frequently need cleaning.

3. Josh says that his room

- A is a bit like an aeroplane inside.
- B is a good place for practicing a musical instrument.
- C is the largest one in the windmill.
- D is better for relaxing in than doing school work.

4. What does Josh say about the different sounds he hears in the windmill?

- A He dislikes the noise of the sails in the wind.
- B He enjoys listening to all the birds.
- C He feels nervous when a loud storm comes along.
- D He's pleased that he's not disturbed by any noise.

5. What would a visitor from the 19th century say if they saw the windmill now?

- A It's great that they've kept the corn store as it was. The horses used to love coming there.
- B The sails are a lot smaller than they used to be. I suppose that's for safety reasons.
- C It's still in the same condition as before. The owners never looked after it then, either.
- D You can still see the windmill from miles away. Of course, there weren't all these buildings around it then, as a busy road going past.

A Story

Here is the beginning of the story. Please, complete the story. Produce your own version.

You should write 150 - 200 words.

One day last holidays I decided to go exploring on my own in the mountains. The time passed quickly and by late afternoon I got tired and hungry. "Maybe I'll find a village soon," I thought. But there was nothing. As it started to get dark, I realized I was completely lost. I could easily die, I thought on this cold mountain. Suddenly

I saw a person. I came closer to him and asked: "I'm sorry, don't you know where a village is? I'm lost here". He smiled and said: "I live not far from here, you can come with me and I will show you a village". I agreed and we went to the north. While we were walking I noticed that men's hands were in blood. I was shocked and didn't know what to do. It was dark and scary around. The first thought was to run. I have never been running so fast. Men shout: "Wait! You will die in this forest!" I saw a tree and climbed on it. I was sitting there during all the night. In the morning I went to the south. I got the top of the mountain and saw where the nearest village is. When I finally came there, and told villagers about a strange man walking in the forest, they advised me to go to the police. Police officer asked me to tell about man's appearance, and finally we discovered that it was a murderer, which ran from prison and killed two people last night. I'm so happy that I survived.
