

WRITING

It was a beautiful Sunday morning! When summer started all Mondays become very happy. All the pupils were happy and it was absent matter which day of the week it was. And our story started on one of Sunday mornings. I and also my friends went to the actor skills ~~class~~ ^{went outside} and decided to walk. We bought gym balls and ~~go~~ outside. We were just walking and walked when we understood that we lost in our town luckily my online map worked and we were able to find our way ~~to home~~. After that we went home and just had fun. - It was a nice Sunday - my friend said.
- I think so too. See you tomorrow!
